If you had the material, would Jamaica rum punch?

In Texas when a man wishes to cut an acquaintance his procedure is simple. He uses a bowie-knife.

Advice to married men: Put a safety-valve upon your self-esteem if you do not want to get "blown up."

A St. Louis editor found a nickel in the street and wrote a half-column editorial on "Our Increase of Wealth."

"Prisoner, have you ever been convicted?" "No, your Honor; I have always employed first-class lawyers."

Jones, getting up from his dinner, in a quiet way remarked to his landlady that he had found everything on the table cold except the ice-cream.

The giraffe is a very timid animal. His neck is so long that when his heart comes into his mouth it takes him half a day to get it back where it belongs.

It is learned that sharks are very fond of cats as food. Now let somebody invent a method of teaching sharks to climb over woodshed roofs and backyard fences.

"Brilliant and impulsive people," said a lecturer on physiognomy, "have black eyes, or, if they don't have 'em, they're apt to get them, if they're too impulsive."

Some one wrote to Horace Greeley inquiring if guano was good to put in potatoes. He said it might do for those whose tastes had become vitiated with tobacco and rum, but he preferred gravy and butter.

A little pair of gloves that yet
Retain the smell of clover,
And just a tinge of mignonette;
I turn them vaguely over,
And marvel how the girl I kissed
(That night she promised to be true)
Could jam a number seven fist
Into a paltry number two.

"Plaze, mum, wud ye oblige a poor bye wid a light? Sure, you've only got to give one glance of yer purty eye at me pipe, and it'll shine like the shtars." He got the light and a good dinner beside. Moral: Always speak the truth in presence of the fair sex.

Before t' e marriage,
With wonderous care,

And bangs her hair.
After the m. rriage,
With angry glare,

Not long ago, in a French provincial theater, a baritone made a fearful croak. Hisses and laughter in the audience. Then the artist came gravely forward and saluted the audience: "Messieurs, I discover that I have issued a false note; I withdraw it from circulation."

A bright little girl was sent to get some eggs, and on her way back stumbled and fell, making sad havoc with the contents of her basket. "Won't you catch it when you get home, though!" exclaimed her companion. "No, indeed, I won't," she answered; "I've got a grandmother."

The East Indian Prince of Gondal is on the eve of matrimony. He is to lead seven happy maidens to the altar all at once. The troubled life of an East Indian Prince has its compensations. Just think of it! Eight souls with but a single thought, eight hearts that beat as one!—Boston Transcript.

"My gracious, child," said the old lady to a boy who offered to carry her satchel for 5 cents, "where did you get those hands from?" The lad gazed thoughtfully for a moment at his pair of flippers, that looked like bunches of young onions, and then answered proudly: "I belong to the Tontine Base-Ball Club."

"I'd laugh if I should fall and break my neck," jestingly remarked James Maloney, of Tappan, N. Y., while in the act of descending from a fall pear tree. The next moment he lay upon the ground with his neck broken. But he didn't laugh. What liars some men are.

In order to cure her husband of drinking, a colored woman in South Carolina put concentrated lye in his whisky bottle. The last words he uttered were to the effect that it would be a relief to him to drop into Hades to cool off, and the last words the widow spoke to the outside world as she dodged into jail were: "I nevah seed sich weak stomachs as de niggahs are gettin' nowadays; dey can't stand nuffin!"

The only way to escape an avalanche is by running, and a run of anything less than 150 miles an hour is all thrown away.

CARD FROM THE LATE J. S. MEADE'S PARTNERS, KOOTENAY.

Perry Creek, Dec. 6th. 1881.

EDITOR COLONIST:—CERTAIN PARAGRAPHS in The Colonist being called to our attention in which certain parties are accused of the robbery and murder of our late partner, Mr. J. S. Meade, in strict justice to those parties we beg to state that we were present at the inquest held on the body, and that there was not the slightest evidence to show that there was any foul play, or even a hint of such a thing, and we feel bound to say that the inquiry was of the most searching kind that could be made. Relative to the robbery hinted at, from our knowledge of Mr. Meade's finances at the time, we do not believe that any robbery took place. It appears to us that the whole statement has been made out of malice. FRANK E. OLENDORF,

PROVINCIAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

To the President, Officers and Subscribers to the British Columbia Rifle Association, 1881.

GENTLEMEN:—I HAVE THE HONOR TO SUBmit the Eighth Annual Report of the proceeding of this Association, and desire to acknowledge the support and encouragement given by the members of the Active Militia of British Columbia as well as those citizens of Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo who have voluntarily assisted the Association in carrying out the object for which it was established, viz: the encouragement of Rifle Shooting in the Province.
The Annual Grant from the Dominion Government of $500 has been duly received.
The Annual Prize Meeting, being the eighth since the establishment of the Association, was this year held at New Westminster on the 10th August and two following days. Competitors from all corps in the Province were present, and the success of the meeting was in a great measure due to them for their ready compliance with all instructions issued by the Executive Committee of the Council, under whose charge the meeting was carried out.
The number of entries for the several matches were as follows:—

No. 1. Opening Match	35
2. Governor General's Prizes	30
3. New West. Corporation Prize	33
4. Royal City Prize	23
5. Nanaimo Corporation Prize	28
6. Wellington Cup	28
8. New Westminster Rifles' Prize	27
9. Association Prizes	32
10. Consolation Match	17

The total Receipts from all sources during the year have been as follows:—

Dominion Government Grant	$500 00
Members at $1	62 00
Proceedings of Prize Meeting	197 37
	$759 37

The expenses incurred towards carrying out the Prize meeting were $183 70, which include the annual affiliation fee to the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association of $40 00.
The amount distributed in Prizes was $400, in addition to which five Challenge Cups, the Governor General's Silver and Bronze Medals, B.C.R.A. Medal, Gold and Silver Badges of this Association and the "Laurie Bugle," as well as prizes in kind were competed for, the aggregate value of which may be estimated at $415.
None of the Challenge Cups presented to the Association for competition have yet been finally won, and their number has been increased this year by the New Westminster Corporation Prize (match No. 3.) and a Silver Cup presented by Mayor Dickinson and the Municipal Council of New Westminster, and the "Occident Challenge Cup" presented by Councillor Howison of New Westminster.
The following are the names of the winners of the Challenge Cups for 1881, with their scores:—
"New Westminster Corporation Cup."
Lieut. Jackson, N.W.R.....44 points, possible 50
"Royal City Prize."
Private DeBeck, N.W.R.....70 points, possible 105
"Occident Challenge Cup."
Capt. Wolfenden, V.R.....43 points, possible 50
"Nanaimo Corporation Cup."
Capt. Peele, N.W.R.....45 points, possible 50
"Wellington Cup."
Asst. Surg. Trew, staff.....35 points, possible 70
The Medals presented by His Excellency the Marquis of Lorne, Governor General, have been won as follows:—
The Silver Medal by Sgt.-Major Brown, Gar. Artil.
The Bronze Medal by Lieut. Jackson, N.W.R.
The grand aggregate prize, for the first and second highest scores in all competitions, except Nos. 7 and 10, the first consisting of the Gold Badge of the B.C.R.A., the Silver Medal of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association and $15, and the second, the Silver Badge of the B.C.R.A. and $10, were won respectively by Lieut. Jackson, N. W. Rifles, and Sergt. J. P. Kennedy, No. 1 Co. Victoria Rifles.
A prize for the fewest misses in all competitions except Nos. 7 and 10, presented by Lieut. Jackson, was won by Sergt. J. P. Kennedy, No. 1 Co. V. R., and a prize for the fewest misses in competitions, restricted to the Active Militia, presented by Asst. Surgeon Trew, District Staff, was won by Corpl. John Cox, No. 2 Co. V.R.
The most interesting event of the meeting was the Team Match, competed for by teams of five members of the Active Militia selected respectively from Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo. (Match No. 7) The teams representing the several localities were selected from the best shots at the meeting, and resulted in a victory for the team representing Victoria, the New Westminster team taking second place and the Nanaimo team third.
The prize to the winning team was a handsome Silver Bugle, presented by Colonel Laurie, Deputy Adjutant General. The Bugle having to be again competed for by a team of ten men from each of the corps of Militia in existence in the locality represented by the winning team, it was won for the year by No. 1 Co. V.R.
The property belonging to the Association consists of:
6 Marking Discs,
4 Red Signal Flags (2 damaged),
3 Brushes (damaged),
3 Iron Plates (6x2),
1 Pool Target,
1 Range Score Book,
in charge of the caretaker at Clover Point.
Two first-class and two second-class iron targets used by the Association are the property of the Militia Department. These targets are all more or less damaged and should be replaced.
The lease of the ground used by the Association as a Rifle Range will expire on the 24th March next, the rent of $25 per annum having up to this time been defrayed and paid by the Association.
I beg to draw the attention of the incoming Council of the Association to the necessity of adopting an improved system of marking. The present system is antiquated and unsatisfactory and frequently gives cause for complaint.
As local Rifle Associations have been formed at Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo, the question of their affiliation with this Association might be considered, and some provisions made by which the prizes offered at their local competitions might be augmented by grants of money or badges from this Association and an arrangement made with the local Association of Victoria for a proportionate contribution to the expenses of the Range at Victoria.
E. FLETCHER, Secretary.

Daily Colonist.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 21st, 1882.

MR. W. HARRISON

is the only person at Yale who is authorized to receive Subscriptions for the DAILY and WEEKLY COLONIST.

L. P. FISHER, Advertising Agent, 21 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, is authorised to receive advertisements for the columns of this paper.

WHY VIGILANCE COMMITTEES SPRING INTO EXISTENCE.

If any person has failed to understand why vigilance committees are sometimes necessary in the United States a perusal of the following paragraph will enlighten him:

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The trial of the Hankinson brothers before Justice Meech yesterday for keeping a gambling house resulted in a verdict of acquittal. It required the jury two minutes to agree on the verdict and fifteen to sign their names to it. As the verdict was announced the Hankinson boys smiled knowingly. The prosecuting attorney uttered some severe words. Robert Law, who investigated the case, was aghast at the result and Justice Meech, throwing up his hands ejaculated, "May the Lord have mercy on your perjured souls." Some five minutes later some of the jury were regaling themselves at the bar kept by the proprietor of the gambling house. There is great indignation in the city at the shameless way in which the case has been allowed to go before a packed jury and Mr. Law intends to carry the case to the highest courts. He says that the fight has just commenced and it is anticipated that a lively war against gamblers will be inaugurated.

Apropos to the above a San Francisco paper of the 14th inst. has the following extract from a report of proceedings which took place at a recent public meeting in that city. The Judge FERRAL referred to is a judge of the Superior Court of California; notwithstanding that fact he is not prevented from acting the blackguard at a public gathering:

Judge Ferral's motion to adjourn was then put and declared by the chair carried. Judge Ferral then went to the chairman's table and called for the members of the committee of arrangements to remain. T. B. O'Brien advanced to the middle of the hall and said angrily: "You are not fit to preside over a body of Irishmen." Judge Farral—Who do you refer to, sir? O'Brien—To you! Judge Ferral—You're a liar, then. O'Brien—You are another. Judge Ferral—You're a dirty liar. O'Brien—You are a ——

Adds the paper: What a disgraceful thing it is that this man should hold a position on the bench of our Superior Court and have it in his power to soil the ermine.

LORD JUSTICE LUSH.

Sir ROBERT LUSH, one of the Lords Justices of Appeal in England, is dead. Sir BOBERT has been in ill-health for some time past. Six months ago an operation was performed upon him, and he received temporary relief. On December 12, however, Lord Chief Justice Coleridge announced in court that Sir ROBERT had had a relapse and would be unable to attend to the cases set down for him. Sir ROBERT was born at Shaftesbury in 1807 and was called to the bar in 1840. He took silk in 1857 and was raised to the bench in 1865, sitting in the old Queen's Bench. He was an eminent criminal lawyer. He presided with the late Lord Chief Justice COCKBURN and Mr. Justice MELLOR at the trial of the TICHBORNE claimant for perjury. When Sir ROBERT was at the bar one of his contemporaries was Sargeant SHEE, afterwards Mr. Justice SHEE, and at the circuit dinner the rough old toast of "Wine and Women" was appropriately coupled with their names.

THE DISHONEST REPORT.

The attorney-general continues the publication of his own version of the arguments and proceedings in the Supreme Court on the constitutional point. It is rather dry reading; but it would be tolerable if it possessed the element of truth. The report is designed to hold the judges up in a ridiculous light while the attorney-general is made to assume an heroic attitude amid a blaze of fireworks. It is much to be regretted that the attorney-general is trying to convert the law courts into an arena where he may make speeches, bulldose the judges and afterwards misreport the proceedings. The sad results that flow from such a condition of things are seen in the recent Seattle tragedy. All good citizens must hope that the present attempt to drag the judicial ermine through political mud will fail. If the attorney-general has a good case no good end can be attained by falsifying the record of what really took place.

Well Thought of, Mr. Editor

It has been intimated that the citizens of Victoria feel much indebted to T. W. Pierre for saving so many people from dying. The judges at the late successful agricultural show acted very wisely in giving Pierre a diploma for dyeing. If they were on Guiteau's case he would certainly have to die without a diploma. The difference between Guiteau and Pierre is that Pierre wants to dye and Guiteau does not want to die.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE COLONIST.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Several journals here state that the Sultan has resolved to dethrone the Bey of Tunis and the whole Hassein dynasty replacing them by Beukalepha, the leader of the Tunisian insurgents. The statements occasion no little commotion and events are watched with much interests.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Gambetta, advised by his friends to tender his resignation immediately declared in reply that he waited the final issue with confidence.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, Jan. 20.—Seicle who attempted the life of the Russian minister has confessed that it was his intention to assassinate the Ambassador. Seicle was prevented escaping by a footman who leaped from the carriage and seizing held him until police arrived.

EASTERN STATES.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 20.—Private dispatches say that Wagoner, the murderer of Dr. Biggs, paymaster at Tranton, was taken from jail by a mob last night and lynched.

PULLMAN, Ill., Jan. 20.—N. Radley and Edward Wilson were killed here this morning in a horrible manner. They were caught in a belt while fixing it on in the wood machine department. Both were badly mangled.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 20.—Stallion Harold, brother of the famous Iroquois, is dead. The owner refused $15,000 for him last summer.

BELLVAINE, Jan. 20.—A fire yesterday consumed eleven buildings. Loss about $26,000. Insurance one-half.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 20—The dry goods shop of Wm. Bird, probably the largest retail shop in the city, was closed yesterday. Claflin & Co., of New York, held the firm's past due paper to the amount of the $27,000 and attached the stock. The Iowa National bank is also a creditor to the amount of $29,000; secured by mortgage on stock, valued at $90,000 and book accounts at $14,000.

RUSSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 20.—The owner of the steamer Lena which aided in the Nordenskjold expedition, is now stationed on the river Lena, has placed the vessel at the disposal of the searchers for Lieut. DeLong. The steamer will be utilized by correspondents in the spring if the difficulties of journeying beyond Yakutsk by sleigh during winter prove insuperable.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—A St. Petersburg correspondent of the "Times" telegraphs: "It is said the holy league recently formed to counteract Nihilism will be officially recognized as a branch of police. This will be perhaps even more unpopular than the reconstruction of the famous third section.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—A Berlin correspondent says that anti-German disorders have broken out at Riga and the Russian authorities are apparently unwilling to suppress the riots.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—A member of the ladies land league named McCormack was sent to prison for a month in default of finding bail for good behavior.

Parnell and O'Kelly, members of parliament, and O'Brien, late editor of the "United Ireland," received notice from the governor of Kilmainham jail that they have been remanded for a further period of three months.

More About the Jeannette.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Frelinghuysen, Secretary of State, has just received the following telegram from Hoffman, our Charge d'Affaires at St. Petersburg, respecting the fate of the Jeannette and her crew:

"Danenhower and five of the crew of the whaleboat arrived at Yakutsk Dec. 17th. They are comfortably lodged, and all their wants are supplied. Melville and six other men are expected soon. Capt. DeLong and the crew of the first cutter were not found on November 16th, the last date received. Doulanger reports that the Jeannette was caught in an ice-pack on October 1, 1879, and drifted with the winds and currents till June last, and was then abandoned."

FROM NANAIMO AND COMOX. — The steamer W. G. Hunt arrived down yesterday afternoon from the above places. Everywhere along the coast to Comox the winter so far has been exceptionally mild and open. Wherever the ground is not too wet farming operations have not been suspended. There is no snow either in the woods of Comox or in the open. Cattle have up to this date been roaming about and scarcely know where the barn yard is or the winter's fodder stored.

AT HOME.—Colonel Laurie and Mrs. Laurie entertained a large number of ladies and gentlemen at Maplehurst on Thursday evening. The spacious parlors were filled with guests who were cordially welcomed and most hospitably entertained by their host and hostess. The event was one of the most pleasant of this more than usually gay season.

THE DRY DOCK.—Stone-cutters are engaged in shaping the blocks of sandstone brought by the Bonanza for the seawall of the dock. Excavations have been resumed and although the ground is very wet fair progress is being made. The brickwork, previous to the winter setting in, was also progressing fairly.

PERSONAL.—F. J. Barnard, Esq., M.P., with Mrs. Barnard, sailed for Ottawa yesterday.

SHORT SESSION.—A short session of the Ottawa Parliament is anticipated.

What Some People Say.

That less than a year ago the Australians were complaining of the influx of Chinese. Lord Augustus Loftus, Governor of New South Wales, in closing parliament recently, said that the law restricting Chinese immigration had "attained its object without injustice to the Chinese residents, and without prejudice to the commercial interests of the Colony."

That one of the first acts of the new city government will be to adopt some new and stringent rules for the government of the Chinese.

That a gentleman whose daughter failed to pass an examination for teacher complains that she was asked questions about things she didn't know.

That he thinks they should not have troubled her about matters that happened before she was born.

That the B. C. Agricultural Association directors will meet at the City Hall at 2 p. m. on Monday next.

That preparations for the next show are already in progress.

That the fine weather is becoming monotonous. Could not San Francisco send us along a cold blast or an earthquake?

That

A plumber went forth to plumb
To a kingly palace by the way,
And when his half-day's work was done,
Presented his bill without delay.
The king brought forth his bags of gold,
His diamonds and his jeweled crown,
The plumber credit gave for them—
And took a mortgage on the throne.

That the new mayor will win popular approval by refusing to be a party to an increase in the number of retail liquor licenses.

That the number of licensed houses is altogether disproportionate to the number of the population.

That if Victoria should grow rapidly business houses would require both sides of the harbor and that rows of warehouses and wharves will line both shores.

A Business Retrospect.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—Dun, Wiman & Co. have issued their annual statement of business failures for the past year in the Dominion. The statement shows a marked improvement in the condition of trade in Canada during the year 1881, as compared with the preceding year or any former year since 1876, that year included. The number of failures for the year 1881 in Canada were 635, with liabilities of $5,751,207, against 907 failures with liabilities of $7,988,077 in 1880; 1,902 failures with liabilities of $29,347,937 in 1879; 1,697 failures with liabilities of $23,908,677 in 1878; 1,892 failures with liabilities of $25,523,903 in 1877, and 1,728 failures with liabilities of $25,717,991 in 1876. An examination shows that the number of failures as compared with the number in business bears a marked improvement in 1881 as compared with 1880. In 1881 there were 59,116 business firms, so that the percentage of failures was one in every 93, whereas in 1880 there were 57,100 business firms, showing the percentage of that year to be one in every 63. The average liability in 1881 was $9,057, against $8,807 in 1880.

CLINTON, Jan. 20.

The house of J. L. Hughes at the 21-mile post from Lillooet was burned to the ground on Tuesday last at noon. Everything was lost. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were on Pavilion mountain at the time and Miss Hughes was on a visit to the Foster's at Clinton. An old gentleman named McCoombs was left in charge. The fire was caused by a defective stovepipe. The house was two-story and was one of the best furnished in the district.

Supreme Court.

(Before Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J.)

FRIDAY, Jan. 20.

THE ELECTION DIFFICULTY.

In the matter of the municipal election Mr. Drake appeared for Councillors Baker and Warren and Mr. T. Davie for Messrs. Carey and Vigelius, the next candidates on the lists in Yates and Johnson street wards.

Mr. Drake took it that this was a case more for the advice of the Court than to vitiate the election. He did not see how the matter could be otherwise considered.

Mr. Drake referred to the consolidated Act of 1881, which embraces all the preceding municipal acts. He referred to section 14 of the Act, bearing on the question at issue.

The Chief Justice did not like the clause stating that his judgment should be final in the matter.

Mr. T. Davie remarked that this was not a controverted election. He was not in a position to enter a petition and neither of his clients wished to embark in a suit against the present applicants.

The Chief Justice wanted to know if no voter would go to the expense of 10 cents to give the Court jurisdiction.

Mr. T. Davie consented to draw up a short petition and it was accordingly done on the understanding that no liability should be incurred for costs.

Mr. Drake continued his argument and referred to sub-section 4 of section 14. He pointed out a remarkable difference in the B. C. Act and those of England and Ontario.

The Chief Justice preferred the municipal act of Ontario because those of B.C. had been based on the statutes of that province and assimilated more nearly with them than with those of the other provinces.

Mr. T. Davie here remarked that he did not see how he could file a petition as he had no instructions for so doing.

The Chief Justice said any voter could file the petition.

Mr. W. K. Bull then consented to sign the petition and the case proceeded, it being understood that the petitioner should not incur any costs in the suit.

Mr. Drake proceeded and read the declaration and disqualification clause in the Ontario Act and remarked that the English disqualification clause was similar. All the decisions he had been able to find went on the question of "interest." He referred to cases in point. If the wording of the B. C. Act had been similar to the English and Ontario Acts there could have been no doubt on the case before the court.

The Chief Justice remarked on one of the cases cited that if one lamp post had been contracted for any number might be contracted for and other articles also. If one man was allowed to contract any number might be so allowed.

Mr. Drake continued that his clients had an interest in the shares of the Telephone Company when elected.

The Chief Justice remarked that these gentlemen were shareholders and every shareholder entered virtually into any contracts that might have been made.

Mr. Drake submitted that members of a joint stock company could not sue individually. A single member of of a company was only a nonentity.

The Chief Justice dissented from this view of the matter.

Mr. Drake here defined from Mr. Justice Lindley what a corporation really is. The person holding a position in a corporation could not come under the definition just read. He read Mr. Baker's declaration in order to show the connection of his clients with the Telephone Company. Was the company such an one as would come within the scope of the Municipal Act? The outgoing Council could not pledge the expenditure of a single dollar beyond their own term of office. Chitty's definition of a contract was then read and the learned counsel contended that there was nothing to oblige the Telephone Company to continue the agreement with the Council for a single day. Other cases were then cited. The word "interest" was used in these act and it had been excluded intentionally in the B. C. Act. He contended that all persons holding water works debentures would have an interest in the contract to pay them, and if this view of the case were entertained there would be but few who were qualified for the position of councillor. The declaration in the Act was then read. The question to be considered is whether at the nomination the disqualification attached to these gentlemen or not. If the word "interest" were used he would not argue the case for a moment. Other cases were then cited. All these cases went on the word "interest" and he submitted that they did not apply under the wording of the Municipal Act. Neither Mr. Baker nor Capt. Warren had any interest as mere ordinary shareholders; and as such they were not disqualified from sitting as councillors.

The Chief Justice wished to see the statute under which the Telephone Company was incorporated. This was accordingly referred to by Mr. Drake. His Lordship referred to the very large number of respectable citizens who were connected with the Gas Company or the water works, and who would be disqualified if the word "interest" had been used in Acts since 1862.

Mr. T. Davie thought it necessary to place the facts of the case before the Court. He thought the relations between the Telephone Company and the corporation should be proven, and he wished Mr. Leigh, the Town Clerk, to state them.

The Town Clerk was accordingly sworn. Was clerk to the corporation; and read from the minute book the arrangements that had been entered into with the company at different times.

Mr. T. Davie remarked that under section 14 he found who were disqualified for serving as councillors. Sub. sec. 4 and sub. sec. 6 had some bearing on the case and Mr. Baker and Mr. Warren were disqualified under both of these. He submitted that the act should be read as a whole. In this case it was abundantly clear that this was a contract with the Telephone Company. That company had a direct interest in keeping the contract afloat. The argument of the learned counsel that the contract could be discontinued at any time was an a fortiri argument against their qualification. He contended that the two councillors in justice would have a direct interest in continuing that contract. Authorities were then cited in support of the contention that councillors should be in a position to give disinterested votes. He referred to the reasons of the legislature for passing the disqualification clauses of the Act. It might be that Mr. Baker could not give a disinterested vote on those matters that might be brought before the council. A man's interest is the same whether he is a member of a company or holds the contract individually. Judgments were referred to in support of this view of the matter.

His Lordship raised the supposition to Mr. Drake that if the Gas Company could get five or six of their directors elected as councillors they would certainly control all matters pertaining to the company in the council.

Mr. T. Davie remarked that the present case was directly within the mischief contemplated by the Act of parliament. The argument that the disqualification existed at the time of the nomination and had since been removed would not hold water in any way, and authorities were cited in proof. Mr. Baker's affidavit was then commented on. The argument advanced that the shares being disposed of, perhaps just before coming into court, did not qualify Mr. Baker.

The Chief Justice wanted to know why the word "interest" was left out and what contract had Mr. Baker with the Corporation? He was only a shareholder and in no legal proceedings would Mr. E. C. Baker's name appear at all.

Mr. T. Davie was of opinion that the word contract included "interest" in it. He thought that the sub-sections referred to explained the difficulty. He submitted that the intention of the legislature was to exclude such persons as held shares in the gas or other company from holding office in the Council.

The Chief Justice—What are the ratepayors and the Council but a joint stock company? and the objections might be applied to everybody.

Mr. T. Davie cited a number of Ontarian cases bearing on the points of his argument. The principal ground on which he submitted his argument was on the Act itself, and he contended that Messrs. Baker and Warren were clearly disqualified.

Mr. Drake pointed out some inconsistencies in Mr. T. Davie's argument. He contended that the time specified in the oath was the present and not the past. If a man was not directly or indirectly engaged in any contract or service with the Corporation at the time of taking the oath he was not disqualified from sitting as a member of the Council.

His Lordship then thanked the counsel on both sides for their arguments and said he would deliver judgment at the earliest possible moment.

The court then adjourned.

FRIDAY, Jan. 20.

CHICKEN STEALING.

Ah Mow, alias Ah Koe, was charged with stealing a chicken on the evening of Thursday last from the store of Wm. Allen on Government street.

Sergt. Bloomfield, sworn, and stated that while on duty, about 7 p. m. he saw the prisoner with something under his coat which he suspected to have been stolen, as it was the same Chinaman whom he met a short time ago with a bucket of eggs, which he found afterwards to have been stolen from the store of G. Vienna; at the same time prisoner took the parcel from under his coat and threw it into the ravine; after catching the prisoner and putting him in gaol went back with Officer Flewin to the ravine and found the chicken produced; this was identified by Mr. Allen as his property.

Wm. Allen identified the chicken produced as his property, which was hanging in front of his store on Government street on Thursday evening.

Prisoner here asked for a postponement of the case for one day so that he could get a lawyer.

The magistrate replied that it was now too late to adjourn the case. It was a clear case and had been proved satisfactorily. Mr. Allen and others should be more careful in exposing their property, as it was a great temptation for thieves to carry off such things. Only that a sharp officer had been on the lookout the property would have been lost. He hoped storekeepers would be more careful in these matters.

Supt. O'Connor said that the prisoner had been indicted before for stealing a coat and was a companion of the man who robbed Mr. Ellis' till a few days ago.

Prisoner was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor.

FAST WORK.

Unloading a Big Collier in Twenty-Four Hours.

Extensive coal hoisting works and storage bins have been erected on the First and Brannan street wharves by the Oregon Improvement Company to handle the 12,000 tons of coal it is receiving each month. The company owns four steam colliers—the Willamette, 2,500 tons carrying capacity; Umatilla and Walla Walla, 2,300 tons each, and the Mississippi, 1,200. The latter is of English build and was originally a blockade runner. The other vessels were built by John Roach at Chester, Pennsylvania. As each of these vessels make two trips per month, there are brought to this port every thirty days 12,000 tons of coal. Along the edge of the dock where the colliers lie are erected four towers two of which are moveable, running on a track. In each of these towers is a double cylinder compound hoisting engine. When a collier is in dock each of the towers is brought opposite one of the four hatches of the vessel and the coal is hoisted from the hold in large buckets containing 1,200 pounds. These buckets are hoisted and dumped into a hand-cart. These carts are carried across a long elevated way to the storage sheds, 264 by 100 feet in size around the sides are bins holding 2,500 tons. From these bins lead forty-four chutes with screens, through which delivery carts are loaded, a cart being filled in half a minute by simply raising a gate. The space in the centre of the building will hold 2,500 tons of coal, so that the total storage capacity is 10,000 tons. The arrangements are so complete that the largest collier will be unloaded in twenty-four hours.—S. F. Call.

BRITISH COLUMBIA BOOT AND SHOE STORE.—Mr. H. Mansell's reason for adopting for his establishment the title of "British Columbia Boot and Shoe Store" is to prevent error in the delivery of letters. FACT OR FICTION.

A Horrible Mormon Crime.

One crime, which was committed here only a short time ago I must describe. Mrs. Maxwell came to Salt Lake City with her husband in 1869. Two years afterwards her husband took another wife, and one year subsequent he was sealed to a third. Mrs. Maxwell had two sons, aged respectively 14 and 16 years. Their father urged them to go through the endowment house and become Mormons, bound by all the oaths of the church. Mrs. Maxwell objected and in order to prevail over her sons she told them the secrets of the endowment house. The penalty for revealing the secrets is dismemberment of the body, cutting of the throat and tearing out of the tongue. Mr. Maxwell overheard his wife, being in an adjoining room, and forthwith he informed the elders, who sent for the unfortunate woman and her two sons. They were taken into what is called the "dark pit" a blood-atoning room under Brigham Young's house. The woman was then stripped of all her clothing, and then tied on her back to a large table. Six members of the priesthood then performed their damnable crime; they first cut off their victim's tongue, and then cut her throat, after which her legs and arms were severed. The sons were compelled to stand by and witness this dreadful slaughter of their mother. They were then released and given twenty-four hours to get out of the territory, which was then an impossibility. The sons went directly to the house of a friend, to whom they related the butchery of their mother, and getting a package of provisions they started; but on the following morning they were both dead—they had met Danites. One other case similar to the above occurred about five years ago in the City Hall. These are truths and the lady to whom the sons told the story is willing to make affidavit to the facts if she can be guaranteed immunity from Mormon vengeance—*Salt Lake Corr. November 27th a serious affair took place at a small village called Tai-tam, near Stanley. A band of Chinese ruffians had attacked a house, and after plundering it were making off when the party came upon a Sikh constable patrolling his beat; shots were exchanged, and the unfortunate Sikh was mortally wounded, being hit in two or three places.

According to the Pekin Gazette a sub-Prefect named Chin Tsung-kan had under his charge two prisoners who made a violent resistance when served with the warrant. To obviate any chance of their escape, this genial sub-Prefect severed the Achilles tendons of the prisoners. The cold entered the wounds and both men died.

GALLIC JUSTICE.

How Guiteau would have been Disposed of in a French Court.

(Cincinnati Commercial.)

The French way of conducting the trial of the murderer Guiteau may be stated with brevity.

The murderer being presented in court the judge would have addressed him:

Judge—Ha, miscreant! You murdered our good president. He had done no wrong. His wife and children mourn, his country has lost him. Your life has been traced. You are a scoundrel. What can you say?

Prisoner—I was impelled by the Deity to remove the president. It was not a personal matter. Some of our politicians were abusing the president, and for the sake of peace the Deity put it into my head to remove him. The Deity did it, not I, as I was but the instrument.

Judge—Miserable! Then you plead insanity? Take the wretch to prison; summon a commission of experts in disease of the mind to make a personal examination of the culprit and report to-morrow whether he is responsible for his acts.

The commission would have been found and the report made without more than one day's delay.

The report would have been that the miserable man knew enough to know that murder was a crime; that his pretence of irresponsibility was the last resource of a desperate wretch.

That would have been the proper end of the trial. Lawyers' speeches by the day to befog the case would not have been permitted.

The mouth of the murderer, if he had attempted to gabble insults, would have been stopped by the judge. The idea of feasting the scoundrel in jail and running after him for autographs and flattering him by taking a cast of his horrid head would not have been entertained for a moment.

Freedom for his blackguard tongue to have full swing day after day, loaded with foulness toward honest witnesses and decent people in general, would have been an insufferable impropriety.

The judge would have called up the murderer on the third occasion of his appearance in the court and without wasting words—without any foolishness or display of rhetoric or sentiment—sentenced him to death.

No time would have been fixed for the execution. A few days, perhaps, would have passed, during which the condemned could have been visited by a scientific man or two, to make sure that the wretch was not an irresponsible maniac and for the formality of an application to be made for the mitigation of the sentence.

The reply to such an application would have been a simple refusal, and the day after, or, at furthest, the third day, a huge black van would have appeared about 2 o'clock in the morning in front of the prison, and in an hour the guilotine would have been in order—and then the executioner would have knocked on the cell door of the murderer, with the information that his time had come and he must take his toilet of death. That means a close shave and hair cutting, and a low-necked shirt. While the preparations were being made the murderer might have been allowed a cup of coffee with perhaps a few drops of brandy in it.

Half an hour suffices for the ceremony of preparation. The services of a venerable priest may be had. The iron gates will roll open without noise, and the ghastly assassin is thrust forward and under the knife, as coolly and rapidly as a hog is handled in the killing season at one of our pork houses, and in the twinkling of an eye the heavy triangle of steel glides down the ladder-like frame, hisses through the neck, and strikes a rubber cushion with a low thud.

There is nothing in this process to cultivate the vanity of miscreants to become murderers—no autographs, photographs, phonography, and no models of heads by bogus artists, or big dinners, or double breakfasts, or correspondence with female fools.

As the trial of Guiteau is conducted, it is the darkest disgrace that has fallen upon the American people since the sale of black or yellow babies at auction ceased, and it will be found to have had a far-reaching demoralizing influence, one that it will require all there is of virtue and energy in the character of our people to counteract and overcome.

How Eugenie Set the Fashions.

Among the benefits which the world owes to the establishment of a republic in France must be reckoned the marked improvements which have taken place of late years in the fashions for ladies. It will be acknowledged that ladies now dress more prettily, if not more sensibly, than they used to do, because fashions have become less absolute now than they were, and ladies are freer to choose what suits each of them best. It was not so in the days when the beautiful Empress Eugenie shared the throne of Napoleon III., and set the fashions to all Europe. In those times the Parisian dressmakers used to spend the season of Lent in wondering what new style of garment her Majesty would appear in at the annual Easter outing of Longchamps; for, as everybody knows, it was at Easter, when the whole of the "great world" used to stream toward Longchamps in their carriages, that the fashions for the coming year were shown forth.

The Empress, by way of doing equal justice to all the tradesmen of the capital, used to have her dresses made at home, keeping a staff of twelve expert seamstresses for the purpose, and a costumier whose business it was to sketch models for new dresses and bonnets. This great man's labor was not performed in jealous secrecy, for his sketches were examined and debated upon by the Empress and the principal ladies of her court; so that when some novelty was adopted two or three of the leading milliners of Paris always had cognizance of it, through the orders given by these ladies. But to the mass of milliners, as well as to the public at large, the new fashions always came as a surprise; so that, immediately after Easter, there would be a grand rush of ladies, clamoring to their modistes to trick them out as fast as possible in that "sweet new thing" that had looked so becoming on the Empress, the Duchess de Mouchy, the Marquise de Gallifet and others.

It was a grand time for dressmakers. The Easter orders they received were sometimes of a kind to set all the silk factories in Lyons working double tides, and to give lucrative employment to thousands of Parisian working folk of both sexes. Sometimes, too, the capriciously-sudden introduction of some startling novelty would operate as a revolution in the trade, as happened when the spoonbill bonnet was abruptly cast aside for the bonnet no bigger than a cheeseplate, which lay flat on the head. This unexpected novelty must have thrown myriads of spoonbills out of wear within less than three months, and was presumably regarded as an unmixed boon for the operatives who were required to manufacture large stocks of the new article. All these violent changes, however, are now things of the past. There are now no recognized leaders of fashion in Paris; and, though every year brings some new modes with it, these are neither so generally nor so rapidly copied as they used to be. Then some fashions which have been found comely and convenient have maintained their prestige for several seasons in succession, defying all extravagant attempts to supersede them.—London News.

IT is a striking fact that three Presidents of the United States (Adams, Jefferson and Monroe) breathed their last on the anniversary of the nation's birth.

In other words, have used up 3756 yards of cloth and made 1505 garments of all sizes and qualities.
